Since the age of 3, singing has been second nature to Kathryn, who has spent her life mastering her craft. A native of Colorado, Kathryn developed her amazing range at 15 and has always been fascinated with the phenomenon of harmony. She spent a great deal of time studying all forms of singing, from classical to jazz to straight pop, while experimenting on her own in recording studios and at the piano at home. She eventually began to write down her ideas, most of them just short musical hooks. "I get a lot of my ideas just as I fall asleep", Kathryn says. "During that stage where you are starting to drift off. I would hear these amazing musical ideas, and would have to write them down right away, or I'd lose them. I started carrying a micro tape recorder with me, because my ideas would expand into full verses and choruses, and I would hum entire songs into my recorder, and put the words to it later." Over time, her collection of tape cassettes started to pile up. Her CD, "Timeline", is the result. Songs like "Point Of View" showcase her pop-sensibility, while others like "Let It Rain" reveal a more techno side. Kathryn's energetic and upbeat vocals are unforgettable, and her ability to grab her listeners is unmatched. She is an up and coming force in the music industry!
