Folk and hard folk. Amusing, introspective, poetic, and fun. 17 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, ROCK: Folk Rock Details: Hi, I'm Lucius Terwilliger, otherwise known as the Artist formally known as "Hey You." I grew up in New England (we moved a lot), and have spent a lot of time in Colorado, where I am loosely based now. I still travel frequently. My influences are really all over the map, from Pink Floyd to Wild Man Fischer to Tom Waits to Tangerine Dream... the Guitar Trio, Syd Barrett solo stuff, overtone singers Huun Huur Tu from south Siberia, Ken Nordine... just a ton of different music. On the CD I play guitar and sing on most of the tracks, and I produced the project. The engineer, Park Peters, deserves a lot of credit for his work as engineer and sounding board. All the administrative stuff was done by Ken Langford, who also wrote many of the songs. The other writers were Steve Clark, Steve Clark, Steve Clark, (I am supposed to mention him 3 times any time I play his songs), Chris O'Riley, Jeff Goldberg, and Pete Wason. The idea of the CD is to get these songs in front of other people, as they are all currently obscure. I'm more of a fan, like you probably are, than a performer. I just really love music, and I wanted to make a contribution. Hope you enjoy the music! Lucius Terwilliger 6/7/02 NEW NEWS! Hi All, It has now been three years since the CD came out, and I am contemplating another. I have gathered many songs from the same contributors, and more are being written as we speak. A few have already been recorded, but I would guess it to be a year or more at a minimum until the next release surfaces. Meanwhile, I am pleased to be more involved with music at every turn of my life. Music enriches me beyond description, but then I suspect you feel the same! Thanks for looking at listening to this CD! Lucius Terwilliger 10/8/05
