Details: Red This Ever is a Baltimore based synth-electro band. If you enjoy listening to synthpop or rock, you'll love us. We combine the electronic elements of today's music with intriguing melodies and rock elements of the past. We've been blamed for having songs that stick to you like glue, as well as not having enough room to dance. Our strangest compliment came from a man that said, "if it were the 80's now...you guys would be rock stars." Compared to Depeche Mode and influenced by Wolfsheim and Joy Division, we have created a sound that is hard to describe. A band for fans of all ages, we have created a new market. With Roy E. Retrofit as lead vox, synths and programming, Tony Calato on drums, guitar, synths and backing vox, Ada Ruiz on bass guitar, synths and programming, and Brendan Tobin on guitars, RED THIS EVER is an act worth seeing live. Our live performance is as entertaining as it comes. We believe that a good show comes from more than just music, and we prove it every time we hit the stage.
