Details: tweaponzand TWeaponz@migente.com About Tomorrowz Weaponz In an industry where every possible frontier has been discovered and conquered (and exploited for that matter), emerge IzReal, Psalmz and Arkitek. Together, they are Tomorrowz Weaponz and they are the last pioneers in an otherwise over-cloned Hip-Hop market. Out of the gutters of Brooklyn's East New York section, their music is an expression of their upbringing. T.W. (for short) has developed all the qualities needed to be respected emcees and they are on the verge of becoming the first transnational Hip-Hop group. In addition to their lyrical ability, T.W. possesses the versatility to express their rhymes in both Spanish and English. T.W. appeared on New York City's hip-hop scene in the late '90's with their first self-released vinyl "City of The Gods". These uniquely creative songs inspired a following and were played regularly on several underground and internet/mp3 radio shows. This exposure also led to T.W. being asked to perform at various venues with the likes of DMX, the late Big Pun, Dead Prez, Wu-Tang Clan, Boot Camp, DJ Tony Touch, Jay-Z, Beenie Siegal, and Mos Def. The group has already worked with some well-known artists in both the Spanish and English hip-hop scenes. These artists have recognized T.W.'s talent and they realize that it is only a matter of time before the world acknowledges what they have already seen. The group has recently released their "Blackout" Single (including Blackout, SonovaGun and Stick Up) along with their "Blackout" EP and both have successful. Tracks on their EP include their single "Raised in the Slums" (produced by Alchemist) which is already buzzing on both New York's and Europe's underground scene. With their new Spanglish single in the wings, they are certain to attain an international name. Although Tomorrowz Weaponz remains unsigned, it is not due to a lack of offers from music companies. Simply, the group has always sought bigger and better things, always believing and knowing that their emerging musical prowess and performance track record will land the group the most prestigious record deal. The group is ready today, to conquer tomorrow's hip-hop scene--one where multi-lingual and diverse cultures will be united under one common voice--Hip-Hop. DefiantEntertainment
