On stage they present innovative, interactive performances, inviting local poets and musicians to join in their improvisational jam of poetry, vocal word-play, music and song. LOVE DEATH POETRY, their premiere CD, features Denver's best known performance poet, SETH, and includes Andrea Gibson, Denver's ranking slam-poet champion. Musicians include Bob Peek (guitar), Edward Marshall (bass), Scott Seeber (drums), Ivan Huber (guitar), Zachary Gotlin (keyboards) Andy O'Leary (bass). Angelina Casola Tupper Cullum provide additional verbal/vocal support. The writing on LOVE, DEATH POETRY is intellect, rich in insight literary craftsmanship. Both SETH and Gibson render powerful performances, their words complimented perfectly by an ensemble of musicians able to convey musically what these poets express verbally. LOVE, DEATH POETRY is packed with hard-hitting, sometimes humorous, sometimes poignant, social, lyrical, political commentary.
