music for the Christmas season with a traditional Caribbean party-jam flavor, and a dash of alternative rap on current affairs. 6 MP3 Songs POP: Folky Pop, HIP HOP/RAP: Alternative Hip Hop Details: Cam king, the writer and producer of this album, 'THIS IS THAT SEASON' says that he "burns with a desire to touch others with appropriate words and music, to enlarge the horizons of their dynamic through music, to bless, to motivate, to bring better and brighter thoughts in a still too dark world." So in this short seasonal production of six songs, King in This is the Season, ignites rhythms, chorus, brass and other instrumentation to encourage us at this season to feed the hungry, but also to feed their hunger, that is, to move others to a hunger for a better, happier world by our actions. Then the local Caribbean lyrics written by King of the Christmas Song Melody bring the true seasonal sense of the production in its Caribbean context, as "sunbeams ripple at our feet and goatskin drums beat" out their stirring traditional folk rhythms, to the dance of eager children hoping to enjoy Christmas treats. King has not forgotten also to mention the millions of children suffering in our world and what we can do by just praying to make their lives better. The song ends with dramatic telephone calls, the sound of helicopters and applause, as a news announcer reveals that over one million children have been touched and helped. Of course, King points out, we too often forget the real meaning of Christmas, until we take off the "mas" and reveal the Christ within Christmas for our consideration. "It's Christmas" invites us to take the mask off Christmas and to bring out the Love. The album contains a New Year Song which invites us to be 'all we are born to be and do what we came into life to do', for a really Happy New Year. Its bells ring out the real flavor of the season of new beginnings, the New Year. And of course, there is a piece of alternative poetic type wrap that talks about the war in Iraq, the war on crack, the war everywhere. Love is the answer to end war everywhere, but the rapper, King, points to the many provocations and difficult situations of our present environment, and the control we have to exert to show love, to "shoot them in the back only with love, with love, with love..." Thus King seeks to fuse form and substance to express matters and concerns vital to our society and daily living, placing us in sympathy with the cause of the album, to bless, motivate to better aspirations during the season, and to bring love to one another. Everytime you give one of these albums to a friend or family member, you support that cause, and you sow the seeds of genuine love in a most positive manner. CD Baby
