Details: AC Means is a classical and Jazz composer who has been working in electronic composition for as long as he has been composing. Eternal Prism is an electro-acoustic album that is the culmination of this artists endeavor in the house/dance musical style. Every track is 120 beats per minute (2 beats a second) which is the optimal tempo for the modern dancer. Each track also focuses on a specific instrumental/synthesizer theme, which allows for greater sonic diversity than the average, droning electronic music. From club-goers to lofty classical composers, nearly everyone can find something to enjoy in Eternal Prism.
