Violin and piano works, played with passion and elegance. 6 MP3 Songs CLASSICAL: Sonata, CLASSICAL: Debussy Details: Fabian Lopez is a native of Malaga, Spain. He started playing violin at the age of eleven. Upon graduation from the Conservatorio Superior de Musica de Malaga, he received a scholarship from the Hispanic-American Joint Committee/Fullbright Commission, to study further at Colgate University. This was the beginning of a process that has lasted for ten years. His principal teachers have been: Nicolae Duca, Laura Klugherz, Kevork Mardirossian, and Camilla Wicks. Fabian has appeared as soloist with orchestras such as: Royal Symphony Orchestra of Seville, Orquesta Ciudad de Cordoba, Chamber Orchestra of Andaluca, Orquesta Filarmonia de Malaga, Orquesta Ciudad de Almeria, Manuel de Falla Chamber Orchestra, etc. In the pedagogical terrain, Fabian has given courses and master classes for the Youth Orchestra of Andaluca (O.J.A.), and in Granada, Adra, Cartagena, West Virginia University, Mercer University, Louisiana State University, and Hebert Springs. As a jury member he has been in the I International Violin Competition Violines por la Paz, in Jaen, Auditions for Violin Professors in Spanish National Conservatories, and The Concerto Competition of the Superior Conservatory of Music of Granada. Fabian taught at the Royal Conservatory of Music Manuel de Falla of Cdiz, Spain (1999-2004). Recently, he has been appointed Assistant Professor of Violin at The University of North Carolina at Greensboro. During his studies at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, Fabian had the opportunity of playing a concert with the Guarnerius del Gesu that belonged to J. Heifetz. He is the lucky owner of a violin by Joan Guillami, 1726, which is called little strad among friends. He graduated from Baylor University (M.M.), studying with Bruce Berg, and from The University of Michigan (D.M.A.), studying with Andrew Jennings. He is happily married and lives with his wife, Sinthia Prez, a terrific harpist, and his dog Max.
