Details: Clearly a forerunner in ambient chillout music ranks, Guido Negraszus and his music are highly recommended if you like Enigma, Mike Oldfield Vangelis and Jean Michel Jarre. Here is one who does not reduce EM to the hypnotic Four-to-the-Floor monotony, but admits melodies, harmonies, suspenseful crescendos and warmth into the genre. Above all, his ingenious shaping of rhythmical elements reflects his adept and informed handling of his instrumentation without negating the up-to-date trends of today. Born in Germany, Guido taught himself to play the keyboard at the age of 15. While most of his contemporaries loved performing live, Guido graduated as a Sound Engineer and Tonmeister at the School of Audio Engineering (SAE) in Sydney to hone his studio skills in his pursuit of the perfect sound. Since his debut album, Blue Garden, in 1990, he has captivated listeners with inspiring and uplifting melodies on a backdrop of laidback rhythms a la the ever popular Chill Out and Caf-del-Mar music scene. Guido describes his music as an alluring instrumental journey for open minds.
