Their music is spicy blend of many influences that they have decided to dub "rompgrass." Hunker Down fans have become accostumed to high energy shows that lift spirits and leave bodies sore from dancing so hard. There music is hand crafted with lots of energy, talent, and personality. For living in a small town in the mountains their music is very worldly yet never leaving out how much they love the mountain lifestyle. Hunker Down is Andy Straus (mandolin, guitar, and vocals), Matt brown (guitar, mandolin, vocals), Bobby kretch (fiddle), Greg Travis (electric and acoustic washboards), Branon Barrett (banjo), and Yaniv Salzberg (upright bass). There 2008 debut CD, "Wood for the Fire" should get you tapping your feet and singing about drinking and skiing, even while at work. Thanks for checking it out and spread the word. Hope to see you in your hometown!
