Traditional Country Music 10 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Traditional Country, COUNTRY: Modern Country
Details: ray rector was born and raised in oklahoma. his love for country music started at a very early age, his mom would play the guitar and sing to him while his dad was off at war. 2 years later his dad returned home, the war ended, but the music never did. his dad bought him a guitar and his mom taught him how to play, they always encouraged and supported him, and ray has been writing, singing, and playing ever since. he recorded his first record (love account little girl to daddy talk) at age 22. this record was a local success as it received a lot of airplay on the oklahoma country music stations and at one time was #14 on the charts, it was also on over one hundred jukeboxes in and around the oklahoma city area. being a responsible adult ray chose to put his desire for music on hold to focus his attention on raising and supporting his family. after his kids were grown ray pursued the career he had left behind once more, he performed whenever possible, always searching to fulfill the craving for satisfying an audience with his very own style of musical works. music was in his blood and even after he quit performing he always kept writing, and after years of dreaming about it, he finally decided to dig thru the hundreds of songs he had filed away and turn his dreams into a reality. we are pleased to announce that he did! the targeted release date is: october 17th, 2000! angelreen music publishing, inc. hcr records
