Deft picking and a voice filled with innocence and candor are his hallmarks. And then there's the poetry, "...born into a culture of entertainment addicts, our lives have become unconsciously cinematic." 13 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, POP: Beatles-pop Details: "As an editor of many books on music, a question I am often asked is: 'Are there any singer/songwriters on the way up out there, as good as the great communicators of the past, like perhaps a young Woody Guthrie?' Until now I never really had much of anyone to suggest. However, a young Michigan musician/entertainer/storyteller, Seth Bernard is more than just a minor talent. He is a singer, a songwriter, and also a true entertainer whose music and broad vision is not only felt by an audience, but will also in time, I predict, embrace more than a few other hardened so-called music critics and experts, like myself. Bernard is a rare bird, an authentic communicator with the right idea for these times. Give him a listen. By all means, see him in person." -Founder of the All-Music Guide "Seth Bernard wields an acoustic guitar, a powerful stage presence and a fiercely contagious spirit." -The Ark "Deft picking and a voice filled with innocence and candor are his hallmarks. And then there's the poetry, '...born into a culture of entertainment addicts, our lives have become unconsciously cinematic.'" -Hobart Taylor, Crazy Wisdom Music "A cool breath of fresh, jazzy folk from the north country." -Ann Arbor Current "...He's a wordmonger of the first order - playful, exuberant, smart and original - with a musical sophistication beyond his years." -Chris Rietz for the Lansing State Journal
