From her passionate, multi-layered piano playing, to her Spanish-style guitar strumming, sultry voice, deeply intelligent and humorous lyrics, and charismatic stage presence---this girl's got it all. I've never heard anything quite like her, and I can't wait to hear more." --Dave Merenda, Grammy Award Winning Songwriter/Producer (Sarah McLachlan)

Alyson Greenfield has been composing contemporary classical pieces on the piano since the age of eleven. At twelve she began singing lyrics over top of her instrumentation, which tackled issues of family strife and the vast and overwhelming notion of time. At fourteen she picked up the guitar and it was apparent that as much as she could write a graceful piano tune, she could also confidently strum the strings with rock and roll fervor. She recently finished an east coast tour with NYC-based bands, Bacci and the WMDs, where she performed at one of New York City's hottest indie spots, Arlene's Grocery. Alyson will also be playing soon in another great room in New York City, the Rockwood Music Hall. Currently she is writing lyrics and composing music for a full-length musical under the direction of Raphael Crystal, who received the New York Outer Critics Circle Award for Best Off Broadway Musical for Kuni-Leml. Additional credits include co-writing the screenplay for Sitting on Fire, a short film based on Alyson's original short story, which was selected to show in several national film festivals--among them the 2004 California Independent Film Festival and the 2003 Philadelphia Documentary and Fiction Festival, where it won Special Prize for Best Short Film. She has most recently been seen on screen acting in Splitpillow's The Alpha Project, Thomas Lisa's "White Hot Dork Funk" music video, and ZWAN's music video, "Lyric."
