Details: Ear to Anon is a musical project spearheaded by composer and multi-instrumentalist Jason Traweek. Many talented musicians contributed to this album, creating a mosaic of non-traditional instrumentation that includes world percussion, violin and cello, electro beats and synths, as well as ambient vocal stylings. Austinite Jason Traweek is songwriter best known for his skills in drums and percussion. Jason began writing music in the mid 80's, music that through the 90's evolved through various styles such as world, ambient and experimental electronic, and folk. This has produced a unique, powerful, and distinctly recognizable style of music. In recent years Jason established himself as a solid performer in the world of live electronic and world beat music, as heard in the award-winning band Matson Belle. Now, he finally focuses his instrumental, songwriting, and production talents into the progressive music of Ear to Anon.
