MCs and crews like Lil Jon and the East Side Boyz and the Ying Yang Twins dug deeper into the crunk phenomenon and in the process gave the club heads a treat to remember. Not only did they stamp Atlanta across a new brand of music, they made quite an impression on both the underground and mainstream hip-hop worlds. Well, there are those that keep it crunk but for those who like to mix a little thug with their crunk juice, a new force, straight out of Ellaville, GA is poised to explode from Atlantas underground; his name is FEDI. pronounced "fetti" Since the early 90s, FEDI aka The Schley County Hotboy Shawn Bethel has been honoring his truly underrated and unique Aggressive-Crunk Thug style that has cumulated into this debut album sure to give life to a star in Spring 2006. Rage N My Eyez, the first-born of Bottom Dollah Entertainment has all the elements of an instant classic and displays the essence of a seasoned MC in control of his destiny. Having cut his teeth after signing to two other record labels, Sounds of Atlanta in 2001 and more recently with Smooth Mix Entertainment in 2003 leading into 2004, Fedi started his own label, Bottom Dollah Entertainment where he says he can quote Im just doing Fedi. For the most part, Fedi sums up his rap career with a phrase endeared to hip-hop and let his haterz be his motivators. He feels that God gave him the talent to rap for a reason so in March 2005, he conceived Bottom Dollah Entertainment from his own blood, sweat, trials and tribulations in the rap game; finally making his dreams a reality. To complete that dream, Fedi predicts a classic original aggressive-crunk thug album
