He has opened for many national acts, including the Plain White Ts - whose hit song Hey There Delilah helped bring acoustic pop-rock back into the mainstream. With influences ranging from: 90's rock acts such as Sister Hazel and Toad The Wet Sprocket, recent acoustic-rock mainstays such as Jack Johnson and Donavon Frankenreiter, and timeless rockers from John Hiatt to Tom Petty - Colburns songwriting process is grounded in soaring melodies and memorable hooks, giving his music a cross-genre appeal. Literal Fiction, Colburns debut solo effort, offers a unique blend of those influences, making for an original sound thats sure to please fans of all genres. Literal Fiction includes 10 tracks, ranging from upbeat sing-alongs (Summer Song and Makin Rounds) and jam-oriented rock (Beyond the Grey and A Matter of Time); to instrumental explorations (Daydream) and more laid back fare (Sometime, Someway and Once Again). Two of the tracks include a guest appearance by fellow Jersey artist DC Slater, who brings a mellow-groove to the discs 3rd track (Rewind) and injects the discs title track with a shot of blues-electricity. Literal Fiction can be easily summed up through Colburn's own lyrics in Rewind: "Just sit back, relax, and let the music be your friend."
