Details: The Black Pandas are a two-piece from San Francisco, California. Twisting together the edges of indie-electro, synthpunk and deep trip-hop, the Black Pandas have developed a warm futuristic sound that has hipsters gathering in the street to hear more. After touring the globe in previous bands, Rico Dali and Sha Sabi became inseparable and started recording on their own. Female vocalist Sha Sabi plays a small arsenal of synths, bass, effects boxes, iphone and other miniature instruments while drummer Rico Dali plays an acoustic kit tailored with electronic triggers. The result is the full, intense sound of the 'Ghetto Kool-Aid' EP which the band debuted in a series of European tourdates this spring.
