Making a last will and testament is the only way to ensure you can properly provide for the needs of your family. If you want to take care of your family and people you love even after your death, making the last will is the answer. Your testament will ensure that your assets will be distributed in accordance with your wishes, appoint guardians who will take care of your minor children, determine beneficiaries, choose an executor, avoid probate, enable you to make arrangements in order to reduce your inheritance tax liability and save your family the emotional difficulty and expense of trying to sort out your personal affairs after your death. Without a will, all of these decisions are left to a court to determine in accordance with state law and this means that you have no control over who your property is distributed to or even who takes care of your children following your death. This book will provide you with detailed information, examples, explanations and samples necessary to learn and understand everything you need to know about making a lastwill.
