BLUES: Blues Vocals, GOSPEL: Contemporary Gospel Details: "Testament of Thomas" is about the believer and all his issues. Here is a brief description of each song.

1. "Army of The Lord" is about the new guys enthusiasm. He repeats Ephesians chapter 6 and puts on the armor of the Lord. Now he's ready for the spiritual war.
2. "Bless The Lord" is a condensed version of Psalm 103. We have played this in many churches over the years. Share the blessing.
3. "Desperate Man" is a true story. There I was in an unfortunate period of life. I fell down a lot cause of back problems. Well I needed supplies bad and no one would help. So, I went to the store by myself. Suddenly I'm equal with sidewalk gum. Of course it's bluesy.
4. "Isn't It Time" is one of those "lets get right again songs," It is done like a love song.
5. "King James" is supposed to be fun. People with no sense of humor will not like this. But then they don't like anything anyway. The bible says that God laughs, so we should too. It is kind of country.
6. "Job" is the first Bible book that I read. It is also said to be the oldest. This song is about the part where Job is asking his friends to ease up. He knows that he isn't paying for past sins. Yet his friends don't get it.
7. "Paradise" is one of the most requested songs I have. Everyone with a heart will be right there. Kind of acoustic, kind of bluesy.
8. "Searching" Everyone is searching at one time or another. After reading "Ecclesiastes" and the other Solomon books I hope you will understand why both "Searching" and "Paradise" have been included.
9. "Sinner Man" is a traditional tune from way back. It is about the last day. This guy wants to repent after the last minute. Oops!
10. "Storm Clouds" A long time ago, in a far away land, somebody, I don't know who, asked me to write a song about the last days. This is that song.
11. "Swing Lo Sweet Chariot" is a traditional tune from way back.
12. "Tamborine" is for Jessica. I don't paint or take pictures. What I do is make musical portraits. So

I was thinking of my friend and remembered this one scene, and wrote this to capture her image. 13. "Woe To You" is a real scary one. These are some of the famous "Woe" verses. This starts in Amos Chapter 5 verse 18 -19-20 and then continues in Isaiah 5 verse 20-21-22-23-24. It's the Bible version of the scary movie. 14. "You and Me and Jesus" is totally fun. It was written for the wedding of J+K. Then years later I recorded it for another wedding for another J+K. See life is fun sometimes. I love Angie's singing on this .I bet you do too.
