Details: Kitchen tables, springs, loss, miners, mountains, culture clash, trailers, stray dogs, loggers, hope, forest fires Rita Hosking's country-folk music is this and more, and always fierce and lovely. Her delivery is, to put it simply, intense. "From the first time I heard Rita sing, her voice gripped me and did not let go, (Joe Craven.) That voice, called a "soulful howl from the mountains" (California Bluegrass Association) is calling attention around the country---"What? California girls don't sing like that!!?" But Rita, called "the real thing" by CA acoustic music fans, will tell you about her upbringing in rural Shasta County, and the old-time band of seasoned mountain characters that took her under their wings. "This California girl comes by her mountain-music sensibility with true authenticity, with original songs deeply rooted in her family's frontier experience," (Dan Ruby, FestivalPreview.com.) A descendant of Cornish miners who sang in the mines, Rita grew up with deep regard for folk music and the power of the voice. Rita's songs have been lauded for story and sense of place, and her performances praised for capturing the audience. Honors include winner of the 08 Dave Carter Memorial Songwriting Contest at the Sisters Folk Festival, alternate finalist #1 for the 09 Telluride Troubadour Contest, and others as well. She has played her songs for appreciative listeners at the Strawberry Music Festival, Kate Wolf Music Festival, and many more. Rita points out that she likes to get to the heart of the matter. As with a mystic, this means a loaded and stunning, yet gentle and compassionate delivery. As Craven adds, Rita's messages are immediate yet patient and her quiet conviction most strong. Come Sunrise, a collection of 11 original songs and Ritas third album, was released in June of 2009. Recorded in Austin, Texas with producer and guitarist Rich Brotherton (Robert Earl Keen, Caroline Herring,) Come Sunrise launches Rita onto the national Americana scene with players such as Brotherton himself, Lloyd Maines, Warren Hood, Glenn Fukunaga, and many more. In addition to her 07 Silver Stream and 05 Are You Ready? featuring members of her band Cousin Jack, Come Sunrise completes a collection of well received recordings.
