Details: Andrew BrianComposer, lyricist. Andrew has been actively writing poetry for many years. Poetry is a very good form of training for turning expressive words into lyrics. The opportunity to grow up around an antique shop (which his parents owned and operated) gave him an appreciation for artistic, aesthetic forms of expression. During this time, he develpoed an interest in art...painting several original works in a back porch of the antique shop which culminated in an art exhibit and he is currently listed with RoGallery of Long Island City, New York. Samples of his work can be viewed at rogalleryunder Andrew Kessler. He has always enjoyed music (his father was also a composer of romantic songs) and as a visual and poetic artist, felt inspired to compose his own original compositions. Andrew completed a Bachelor of Science Degree in Sociology from Missouri State University and considers himself to be a student of life. He greatly appreciates the creative process...and the opportunity to share it with others. The featured soloist of the CD, Angel Without Wings is Trish Fevold. Her voice has been compared to Barbara Streisand and Connie Francis. It has a depth, power and vocal clarity that is a true delight to the listener. Trish did perform with Bobby Vinton for five seasons at his theater in Branson, M0., and more recently performed in her own show in Branson. This CD (Angel Without Wings) is primarily of soft, sentimental, easy listening songs sure to create a relaxed, romantic mood...as if you were sitting near a warm fireplace.
