From upbeat pop melodies and funk-soul rhythms to club thumping beats and movie score crescendos - AudioBody is like nothing you've ever heard. 15 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Pop Crossover, ELECTRONIC: Big Beat Show all album songs: Do Something Difficult Songs Details: Matthew Tardy released his first album under the name AudioBody in 2004 titled, "Sound. Motion. Theater.. AudioBody has since gained a massive international audience, mostly attributed to the wildly popular Diet Coke Mentos viral video that featured "You Gotta Tap". The burst of popularity was quite unexpected and he scrambled to fill the thousands of CD orders that came in from all over the world. For a period of about 2 months "Sound. Motion. Theater" was the #1 selling album from the largest independent distributor in the country! This was soon followed by countless TV credits including VH1, The Today Show, The Ellen DeGeneres Show, Good Morning America, Inside Edition, MythBusters, CNN, and G4TV. In 2007 AudioBody released a long-awaited second album called "Do Something Difficult". Featuring 14 brand new songs and a remix of the ever-popular "You Gotta Tap". Today, AudioBody is touring the country promoting his new album and is also collaborating with other artists to create a remix album. Future goals consist of scoring a feature film, signing to a record label and sleeping.
