At thirteen Chelsea formed a band and won a competition sponsored by a local country station. The prize was opening for Tracy Byrd, Chalee Tennison and South 65. At fourteen she expanded her performance area to all of Northwest Michigan. She and the band were hired to open for Trick Pony, at Traverse City's National Cherry Festival in front of a crowd of 5-6 thousand. At fifteen Chelsea recorded her first CD, a compilation of 8 covers by various artists. She again expanded her performance venues, this time statewide, performing at numerous festivals, fairs and special events. At sixteen Chelsea and the band performed nineteen shows throughout the state including opening for Blake Shelton at the National Cherry Festival and Emerson Drive at the Soo Locks Festival Along with her busy performance schedule and school, Chelsea made two trips to Nashville in 2003. In January, Chelsea and her band were invited to perform on Fox Televisions, "Mornings on Fox 17", hosted by Charlie Chase of "Crook Chase" fame. They performed two songs, and Charlie and his co-host Kelly Sutton interviewed Chelsea. She was back in Nashville in September to compete in the "Nashville Country Show" in which she was chosen in the final six of forty-four competitors. She also performed at the historic "Tootsies Orchid Lounge" in downtown Nashville, to a packed house. While in Nashville, Chelsea was introduced to Gilles Godard, a writer, producer for Curb Records. After meeting with Chelsea and seeing her perform at Tootsies, Gilles expressed an interest in working with her on her first CD of original music. The details were worked out and Chelsee, then seventeen, returned to Nashville and spent her spring break week 2004 recording. The CD "A Life Less Ordinary" contains 9 original songs from some of the top publishing companies in Nashville, and 1 remake of a Melissa Etheridge song. It was recorded at Curb Music Studios and B. Craig White engineered the Curb segment. He has engineered for Tim McGraw LeAnn Rimes and Chris Cagle. Bob McGilpin engineered the B. McMusic vocal segment. Bob has been working in the recording studio since the late 70's. The musicians that recorded the project were, Jeff King as session leader and lead guitar, Jerry McPherson on guitar/slide guitar, B.
