Melodic, eclectic and layered avant garde pop. 12 MP3 Songs POP: Quirky, WORLD: Middle East
Details: After spending the better part of a decade playing in various bands (Cobalt Blu, Manhattan on the Rocks, Lot 49) around the Denton/Dallas/Ft. Worth area, Drew Maher is now a solo artist. Fresh off of playing a major label showcase, Drew is embracing a new avenue for his musical career. His music is a blend of eclectic influences including Bjork, The Postal Service, Travis Morrison, Stevie Wonder and James Taylor. Drew has made 6 full-length albums and 5 Eps and is thus no stranger to the studio. He is also no stranger to the stage. Over the years he has played with a variety of musical set ups; somewhere around 150 live performances in all. Another twist that Drew throws in, is the fact that he speaks and sings in Spanish, as well as bit of French, making him one of the most versatile songwriters that you are going to come across. Along with his Yamaha Motif 6 keyboard, Drew is a complete songwriting package. Starting with pre-recording the drums, bass, "bells and whistles", he also writes and performs live, all vocal and guitar parts for his unique blend of songs. By combining English, Spanish, French, experience and solid songwriting ability, Drew Maher provides something for everyone. Whether it be an average radio listener or an avant-garde critic, everyone will come away with something worthwhile.
