Acoustic Details: With the release of "The Scrapbook EP", Michael England is ready to share his music with people from all walks of life, and showing just what he's capable of. "This album truly is a scrapbook of memories for me. It has seven songs that have been in the work for the past five years or so. It's funny how when you start something, you see the outcome a certain way, and once you actually finish, how everything ends up. No matter what, I think people will find the album to be fun and at least appreciate it. I feel like I've only scratched the surface of what's to come. It can only get more interesting." Michael England is a prevailing singer/songwriter who was born with music running through his veins. The twenty-two year old performer, who reigns from the Philadelphia area, has the innate ability to combine the most uncanny melodies with his soft voice. With his own blend of acoustic indie/folk/pop, Michael has been compared to such artists as Jack Johnson, John Mayer, and Iron Wine. He first got his start as the lead singer/guitarist in the indie rock band, Late Night Desperate. While touring the East Coast, they shared the stage with national acts such as Coheed Cambria, OneLineDrawing (Jonah Matranga), Further Seems Forever, The Casket Lottery, and Breaking Pangaea. In late 2002 Michael parted ways amicably with the band to begin writing and recording his own solo tracks. These tracks have grown to form Michael's debut album, "The Scrapbook EP", which is due out in spring/summer 2006. This album is an eclectic collection of self-revelatory songs, which will be sure to strike a chord with people from all walks of life.
