Total Creativity and versity rap flows on different types of beats. 16 MP3 Songs HIP HOP/RAP: Rap, HIP HOP/RAP: Southern Style Details: Well I've been doing this since I can remember I had started up a gospel rap group in elementary school and we use to perform at schools and different churches. I would help with the hooks and I wrote out most of the verses, that was going well for a minute then around 6 or 7th grade I start going out on my own. I use to write songs about people that bother me like I was an Eminem. I used profane language until a close friend died and I wrote a song about it and decided to give it up. After his funeral I was riding with lil blaze (which is now one of the artists on RP entertainment) and he let me hear one of his songs with playa breeze and I final decided this is what I'm suppose to do and to never quit and since I got my life right with God I vowed to stay positive not curse and disrespect anyone. Around the age of 16 I recorded my first song "My Time 2 Shine" then my mother and I signed up with bmi which set my album release date to September 04' which was called the Grand Opening but I had to leave for the army the same month. After I came back in May 05' I was starting on a mixtape, before I completed that I was working on that I connect with Marquis (which is one of the members of tha bringin' tha pain squad on RP Entertainment which consists of RP, Lil Rock, Marquis) and starting working on "Tha Bringin' Tha Pain Mixtape" which is now a series of mix-tapes featuring DJ RP as the producer. Il been real busy promoting and working with other artists then I ran into a Katrina that was affiliated with S.O.S. that how I got started with that and made the song which features a sample on my 2nd solo album due to be release May 06' Try 2 Stop Me.
