Details: The international band Waterflow evolved out of the combination of two bands that spontaneously came together at the European World of Bluegrass (EWOB) in 2005. The group decided without hesitating to keep working together on a tour basis and merged their bandnames to form "Waterflow". The band plays a very diverse set of acoustic music with aspects of bluegrass, jazz, swing and country. Waterflow consists of five renowned Slovak musicians who have all developed a distinctly personal style of playing in their many years of experience, and is completed by the low and warm vocals of the Dutch Loes van Schaijk. In Holland there is a saying "What comes from far, tastes good", which applies nicely to this band: sometimes you have to look across the borders of your own country to find the combination of bandmembers that will give the music exactly the right flavor. Thusfar the band has played at many venues in Holland, Belgium, Switzerland and Slovakia, some of which were famous festivals like EWOB, Bluegrassfest and Dobrofest, to all of which the band were asked to return multiple times. Release of Waterflow's full-length CD "Perfect Match for Trouble": 29/03/2008 Waterflow is proud to present its first CD, "Perfect Match for Trouble", that holds some originals along with a selection of the best cover songs ever played by the group. On the 29th of March the CD was officially christened by the famous Slovak fiddle player Stano Paluch in Pezinok (SK). The CD will be for sale at concerts and via mail order (see contact info below).
