Digitally remastered from the LP. This music was created in the Ozarks. Crow had returned to the states after a folk-rock record deal in England 1969-1971. 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, ROCK: Folk Rock Details: In 1980, after being with EMI in London, Crow Johnson moved to the Ozarks where she could scratch out and shape the kind of sounds she wanted to hear. This album was recorded in Tulsa, Oklahoma, with a budget of one hour per song. This is a heartfelt renegade's first solo album of original songs. Because the words "damn" and "bull make" were used, the LP was both beloved for it's wisdom, humor and honesty and--- shunned by the up-tight.
