Political americana, 5 string banjo soulful fun creative hits. 5 MP3 Songs FOLK: Political, BLUES: Guitar Blues Details: Born to US military parents in Germany, I picked up a guitar at eight yrs old, and learned my first song. I remember it, If I had a Hammer, and recall that the F chord was tough and giving me trouble. My first 45 was Pictures of Lily by the Who, and I got one of those flower covered 45 phonographs as a gift. Jr high high school was during the disco era and I remember asking my mom to get me the new Led Zeppelin album, and remember playing that in school during class, when the teacher would set aside time for the students to bring in an LP to play. Double sessions in Fl. at that time with the teachers strike in progress. I then began to listen to the Doors, Clapton, Santana, Leonard Skynard, the Outlaws and the southern rock of the period. My first concert was Mountain, and I remember how Leslie West played Mississippi Queen. Saw Yes in concert, Jethro Tull, Chuck Berry, Heart and others from the time. I then moved to Muscle Shoals Alabama, where I learned about studio recording and the real industry of music, played in my own band at the Tennessee line beer joints, began writing my own songs and doing demo work. Tough times moved me from Ala back to Fl, Where I sang lead in a rock band called Bad Boy Heaven . . . Met a gal from Ca. and moved to Marin county where I met great players like Huey, Carlos, Journey and the like. I then enrolled in college and studied acting and performing arts, became a union actor and landed some roles, got an agent and did some film television work in San Francisco. I then met Cucaro in Sausalito and under his teaching learned to draw and paint in the abstract expressionist style. I include a limited edition artwork numbered and signed in pencil in the CD..the CD layout is from my body of work.I am active in my middle years in Marin county, and will continue the path of a creative artist.
