Pop/Broadway. This is a 2009 International Year of Astronomy Song, featuring four singers that bring light-hearted fun to the serious world of science. 7 MP3 Songs in this album (26:49) ! Related styles: EASY LISTENING: Musicals/Broadway, SPOKEN WORD: Musical Comedy People who are interested in Queen Freddie Mercury Meat Loaf should consider this download. Details: The United Nations declared 2009 as The International Year of Astronomy (IYA2009), and to date, Up, Up, Up in the Sky (Track #1) is one of only eight official IYA2009 songs that celebrate the 400th anniversary since Galileo first looked up toward the sky through a telescope. This EP is perfect for astronomers, educators, presenters and lecturers because there are 7 different mixes of the song, including various karaoke mixes and outro loops ideal as a tag at the end of a lecture or presentation, or as a prep before a presentation begins. Theres a whimsical approach to Donnas songwriting, while the full song also delivers intelligent reasons why the sky has meaning for everyone, from Galileos discoveries to worshippers. The lyrics also tell of fantasy and myth, including the belief that stars were once Pharaohs as well as describing the tale of Herd-Boy and Weaver Girl. Since a beautiful night sky can bring out the romantic in all of us, Donna gives Romeo and Juliet as an example that the sky belongs to lovers too. Musically, Donna brought her hit-songwriting background to composing the song. Then, producers Joe Carroll and Wade Tonkens arrangement enhanced the theatrical quality of her song, resulting in what could easily be heard as the opening song to a Broadway musical! and now everyone is urging her to write that musical! Donna is joined by three other soloists - Clara Barton Green, Matt Gordon and Eric Vetter. Each of The Big Bangers know Donna from the theatrical world and Shakespeare Saturdays. Donna has a mezzo belt, Claras voice is pure soprano, Matts baritenor is a theatrical directors dream and soulful Eric is the best noodler in town! The four singers trade off solos, but on every refrain, they sing as an ensemble where their voices blend. There was a lot of fun while recording the song, and they hope the listener has fun hearing it! This song is so much fun, if Galileo were alive today he'd have it played at his Birthday party...and HE'S A FREAKING GENIUS! Barry Liebmann Comedy Writer, MAD Magazine It was a delight listening to Donna Stearns' song, 'Up, Up, Up in the Sky', composed specially for the International Year of Astronomy 2009. Capturing the spirit of Broadway and the excitement of discovery, this uplifting bit of music is sure to please old and young alike. Kevin B. Marvel, Ph.D., C.A.E.
