Eclectic, mostly instrumental, partly experimental, head space music for humans who like to play with little plastic toys. 24 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Experimental, JAZZ: Weird Jazz Details: Something is wrong down on the farm. Something odd has happened to the animals there. Now, the United States military has arrayed its mightiest forces against these strangely altered beasts. The final battle between good and evil is about to begin...but how does one tell which is which? This is FARMAGEDDON This CD-R was conceived as a futuristic tabletop ballet for cheap plastic toys that you can play with at home! To maximize your enjoyment of this work, Flintlock Batmonk recommend you hurry out to your local $0.99 store and purchase one or more sets of plastic army men (if you're lucky, your set will come with plastic trucks and tanks, too!) and one or more set of plastic farm animals (if you're really really lucky, you'll get fences and trees, too!). Set-up and play with these delightful toys according to whatever story this strange music suggests to you...move the toys in your own improvised, interactive, interpretive ballet!
