FALLEN ANGEL HAS CHANGED HIS NAME TO SPEEDY FOR MORE INFO GO TO WWW.PLAYALISTICRECORDS.NET IF YOUR LOOKING FOR BEATS GO TO WWW.CYNIKALPRODUCTIONS.COM In their debut album, "Day by Day" Gumbino Fallen Angel, present a street sensible, intelligent rendition of day to day life as viewed by two young mexican-americans living in Houston, Tx. Fallen Angel provides a dramatic musical backdrop reminiscent of 3-six Mafia thought most of the album. Prime examples of this are the contemplative somewhat biblical "curse" in which Gumbino recounts the story of Adam Eve, while Fallen Angel proclaims that we've dug our own grave, the homicidal "Wanna Die" in which Gumbino boasts his narrative skills, and tells a story climaxed by triple homicide, and the club friendly "Buckwild" in which Gumbino Fallen Angel trade verses displaying their lyrical prowess. Gumbino Fallen Angel have had a long underground career in H-town, having appeared in various mixtapes and compilations dating back to 1998. They have performed at many of the clubs in H-town. With deep lyrics heard only before from East Coast artist's and flip flow deliveries that at times sound Mid-West, and beats that have a West Coast influence, you can easily say that these two rap artist's first sonic endeavor doesn't sound like anything that has ever come out of the Dirty 3rd.
