Singer now less nasal. 14 songs. Great CD. 14 MP3 Songs ROCK: Emo, POP: Beatles-pop Details: Gordon Hashimoto * vocals, guitar, piano Eric Robitaille * drums Patrick Hamilton * bass Recorded in Montreal Gordon here. I always liked what producer David Selznick said to the crowd at the premiere of "Gone With The Wind" in 1939. He said "Ladies and Gentlemen, we have entered Atlanta with humility and trepidation, and it is our fervent hope that this city, of all cities, will be pleased with our efforts. Thank you." I feel the same way about this new CD. The part about Atlanta doesn't apply, of course - unless we get to tour there. Gallery: My hair is the longest it's ever been. I haven't had a haircut in 23 months - I look a bit like Alanis Morissette did in her first video. The cover art is a painting by James Kochalka (americanelf.com). Other names that were considered as the title of this album: 1. Wish Grampa Luck 2. The Snow of 1986 3. When We Were Wee 4. . . . or are you just happy there's a banana in my pants? 5. Basketball of the Future 6. Hot Dignity Dog 7. Tragic Flaws a' Plenty
