One of the stronger RnB/Jazz releases to come out in a while - strong instrumentation, superb arrangements, and truly scrumptious on the ears. 10 MP3 Songs in this album (42:25) ! Related styles: URBAN/R&B: Soul, SPIRITUAL: Contemporary Gospel Details: Having served and worked with a number of ministries over the years as a musician, worship leader and Music Director and Choir Director, Tayme Tees debut album could almost be seen to be the product of all those years of working and walking with God in His musical calling. With a history of following his dad (as a 3 year old boy!) to choir rehearsals its no wonder tee continued along the same lines as his father by joining a choir from his early teens. His early years consisted of him serving primarily as a singer until his interest in music took him to the keyboard which he learnt without any tutoring. Shortly after picking up the keyboard came the responsibility of leading worship which also led to him been appointed as a music director in his last 3 churches. It was during these periods that tee started doing a lot of writing, music composition and occasional productions of songs which were ministered by choirs during services and special events. The debut album aptly titled So Good highlights tees diversity with musical styles ranging from contemporary praise to soulful jazz. So Good speaks of Hope in all hopeless situations and Gods love towards a generation that yearns for true love. Reviews: "Four Kornerz have already proved to any skeptics than Nigerians can do the R&B gospel thing as well as any American or Brit. If you still had any doubts, here comes another soul-inspired Nigerian to convince you. Tayme lives in London and recorded this album in London and LA - in the studio recently set up over there by UK jazz man Mike Parlett (who turns up with his saxophone on a couple of tracks)...." - George Luke

Yinka Awojobi, UKGospel.com "...Tayme Tees debut album So Good is one collection of original songs that's worthy of note. Written and produced by the emerging musician and choir director, the 10-track CD is a mixture of warm praise songs and worshipful ballads ideal for getting listeners in a contemplative mood.." - Kimberley Ward, Unitedbyone (unitedbyone/Publisher/Article.aspx?id=86813)
