CLASSICAL: Chamber Music, LATIN: General Details: The Aurora Guitar Quartet brings together guitarists from Europe, Japan and the United States. Recent performances include a sold-out New York debut at Carnegie Halls Weill Recital Hall, a concerto performance with Pan-American Symphony in Washington, D.C.s Lisner Auditorium, and recitals in Baltimores Shriver Hall and The Kennedy Center. All members of the group are also accomplished soloists and have performed in recital and with orchestras in Europe, Asia and South and North Americas. The ensemble has toured extensively in Japan and performed for guitar societies in Philadelphia, Austin, Denver, Baltimore, and Miami, Tampa, Orlando, and other cities through the Florida Guitar Alliance. Aurora is expanding their guitar repertoire by frequent collaborations with composers. The Quartet was featured as Artists in Residence for the Baltimore Composers Forum and participated in Peabody Conservatorys tribute to world-renowned composer Roberto Sierra from Cornell University. The group was invited to perform and conduct masterclasses for the National University of Costa Rica in San Jose and performed twice for the annual Manuel Barrueco Masterclass and Festival. Auroras recording Fandango has been highly praised and featured in leading guitar magazines, including Japans Gendai Guitar, and was also broadcast on National Public Radio.
