bluesabilly...american roots...blues 12 MP3 Songs BLUES: Rockin' Blues, COUNTRY: Country Blues

Details: this is my favorite album of all. this was produced by edward tree one of the finest around; engineered by steve pouliot and the rythm section from the dwight yoakum band came to my rescue (taras, skip, billy watts, pete anderson, dave raven plus a lot of mental support from scott joss). it was a time of lonliness, frustration, etc. and they all stepped up to help me out due to the fact i had lost my band, in the middle of being sued by management it was not a happy time in my life. everything got resolved and everything turned out fine, (just like a hollywood movie). the album has received awards and four of the songs have been in movies and television soundtracks also getting a BBC hit in England not bad for album that i thought would never be completed. tenacious attitude and the help of good friends that is all it takes. the other driving force was my harmonica player hurricane jake fitzgerald who kept my spirits up and never gave up he was such an inspiration and sadly he passed away due to a battle with cancer. the world lost a great harmonica and i lost a great friend. enjoy this album you kinda know what i went through to make this happen...it was all worth it and it shows what this band is all about musically... many influences but still the same band.
