

Mp3 Sheila And Jessie - Music From The Hills

DOWNLOAD HERE

Old-time string band sound, with sometimes funny lyrics reflecting Sheila and Jessie's lives as 70's back-to-the-landers. 19 MP3 Songs FOLK: Political, COUNTRY: Country Folk Details: Sheila and Jessie were two women who moved "back to the land" in the early 70's, semi-homesteaded in the hills of Northern California, and sang original country/oldtime songs about their pleasures and troubles. Sheila was a single mother; Jessie lived with her partner, her daughter's father. I'm Jessie, fiddler and singer (now a teacher, fiddler and storyteller), and Sheila died some years ago, but our wonderful album, "Music from the Hills" lives on. The songs are funny and poignant ("Libra Song," and "Beer and Wine"), political, ("Birth Control Blues" and "Me and the Law"), and just plain good! "Will We Know" -a country gospel song in the context of reincarnation being the norm, and "Does Anybody Care?"- an environmental anthem. The topics are still relevant, and I'm so glad to have a record of our lives back then, as well as of Sheila's voice and my not-too-bad fiddling! Enjoy, and good luck to us all!
