Introduction.- Dedication page.- Fabry Disease An Overview.- Fabry Disease A patient perspective.- Part I Pre-Clinical.- 1. Molecular genetics of Fabry disease and genotype-phenotype correlation.- 2. The structure of human  $\alpha$ -galactosidase A and implications for Fabry Disease.- 3. Subcellular, cellular and organ pathology of Fabry disease.- 4. Biochemistry of Fabry disease.- 5. Clinical relevant examples of genotype-phenotype correlation.- 6. Laboratory diagnosis of Fabry disease.- 7. Biomarkers for Fabry Disease.- 8. Fabry disease case finding studies in high-risk populations.- 9. Small Molecule Drug Discovery for Fabry Disease.- Part II Clinical.- 10. Clinical Manifestations of Fabry disease: an overview.- 11. The Heart in Fabry Disease from Pathogenesis to Enzyme Replacement Therapy.- 12. Renal manifestations of Fabry Disease.- 13. Neurological manifestations in Fabry Disease.- 14. Dermatological manifestations of Fabry Disease.- 15. Histopathology of skin in Fabry Disease.- 16. Bone and muscle involvement in Fabry Disease.- 17. The eye in Fabry Disease.- 18. Pulmonary, ear and less commonly appreciated manifestations.- 19. Neuropsychiatric manifestations of Anderson-Fabry disease.- 20. Genetic counseling and psychosocial issues for individuals and their families with Fabry Disease.- 21. Fabry Disease in Females.- 22. Fabry Disease in Pediatric patients.- 23. Experimental Studies in Mice on the Vasculopathy of Fabry Disease.- Part III Management.- 24. Overview.- 25. Agalsidase alfa in the treatment of Anderson-Fabry Disease.- 26. Agalsidase beta clinical trials and long-term experience.- 27. Analyses of Agalsidase Alfa and Agalsidase Beta for the Treatment of Fabry Disease.- 28. Enzyme therapy in children.- 29. Pharmacological Chaperone Therapy for Fabry Disease.- 30. Potential factors influencing treatment outcomes.- 31. Symptomatic and ancillary therapy.- 32. The Price of Cars vs the Cost of Caring.- Summary Fabry Disease, a uniquely different lysosomal storage disorders.- List of Patient Associations around the world EAN/ISBN : 9789048190331 Publisher(s): Springer Netherlands, Springer Science & Business Media Format: ePub/PDF Author(s): Elstein, Deborah
