I can't believe in a God who doesn't dance. This joyful rendering of music helps you to dance in the mystery of God and life. 11 MP3 Songs EASY LISTENING: Soft Rock, ROCK: Acoustic Details: Gregg has released his first CD "Dancin In The Mystery." It's diverse musical tapestry blends raggaie, rock, acoustic light rock and ballads around some distinctive vocals and thought stimulating lyrics. The music is renewing and refreshing and invites us to dance with a God who intimately knows, loves, cares, and moves with us. The last cut "All Is Holy" began as a song Gregg wrote for his Congregation and now several churches and thousands of people are using it in their worship. "As you hear the song it lifts your spirits and opens you up to singing and celebrating with wonder and enthusiasm." "Feet On A Rock" is a blues brothers "soul man" type Gospel song that gets everyone on their feet. "It's a great, fun, crowd energizing song that really moves and gets you thinking about life's foundation. The lyric for "Dancin In the Mystery" combines the sentiment, "I can't believe in a God who doesn't dance", with, "If the only prayer we ever say in our life is Thank You it will be sufficient". The fusion of these insights with some dynamite Raggaie, brass and super smooth vocals invite us to thankfully enjoy each minute of every day to "put our feet on the floor like waves on the shore" and be "Dancin in the Mystery". The song "Some Great Love" is a prayerful acoustic piece that explores some of life's deeper questions. "There are times when I avoid the things I can't explain, those times in life when mystery's my friend. It's is all to wonderful, mysterious and deep, this simple life of being, what life to death can be, Because of Some Great Love for me, Because of Some Great love I can't see." Thank you for your interest. We wish you peace, a simpler life, a gentle thought and a kind word of appreciation.
