Thank you for visiting Jeannie Fitzsimmons' music site, and taking a moment to enjoy the soundbites of her healing flute and acoustic keyboard music. This is neuro-acoustic music, which is composed out of time, or arrhythmic, to allow the listener to relax into the silent gaps and soothing, rich sounds. You can read more directly on her generic website as well at: LotusheartMusic and then come back to download your favorite songs. Mostly instrumental, the CD called WIND POET also includes four vocal songs Jeannie wrote and sings. Love songs to your heart. ANNOUNCING! January 5th 2009 launched Jeannie's music around the world as it is used in the new Hit book called THE SOULMATE SECREWT, written by Arielle Ford. The WIND POET music is part of the gentle meditations through which people design the destiny of their lives with a loving partner or soul mate. After several years of concertizing, travel, and wrapping her voice, gentle keyboard and flutes around various entertainers, churches, and transformational events, her music from DIVINE LULLABY was used at the National Healing Conference of Carolyn Myss, Ph.D, by Speaker, author and health educator/coach and hypnotherapist, Suzy Prudden of Suzy Prudden Presents. This music is soothing, pure, and gentle and reviews remark that it leaves people u;lifted, changed, and at peace. This arrhythmic music is a flowing experience. Her 4 vocals are love songs from the heart and soul, are used in many health, healing, and ambient workshop and retreat environment options. Jeannie Fitzsimmons began writing songs to her poetry and story-telling in her teens in South Dakota, and produced her first record at 15. A singer with major artists from Johnny Mathis, Glen Campbell, Julie Andrews, Bob Hope, Dean Martin, Johnny Mann Singers, Cher, and dozens of others, she toured and traveled with major entertainers of the 70s. She was a regular on the Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour TV Show, Julie Andrews Hour, and many more CBS-TV shows, she has co-written with several successful song-writers. She writes in several genres, but is partial to gentle love songs, country and Broadway. Jeannie emerged on her own as a healing music composer in the 1990s, writing songs from the intuitive heart, gently leading you through an arrhythmic and of healing through sound. She is an energetic healer of many modalities, and all of her work is devoted to awakening and spiritual wisdom. Her hollowing and soothing music is both sweet and soothingly haunting, richly deep, yet elegantly light and playful. She is an ASCAP composer for 30 years, a multi-platinum songwriter with artists like Anne Murray, Dionne Warwick and Dottie West singing her songs. Barry Manilow produced DIONNE, which includes Jeannie's special love song used by many as they say their vows at weddings: "My Everlasting Love For You", This love song is also used at special events and heart-centered retreats. She is a professional singer, and studio singer, flutist and intuitive keyboardist. For many years, her music has been used for facilitating at National Healing Conferences, and in many facilitation and transformational venues for uplifting change. A professional studio singer, cutting her teeth as a backup performer on tour, and Broadway actor/singer, she has versatility, range, and power in her voice, although this venture is gentle, light, and soothing. It is called 'music to soothe your heart, and nourish your Soul'. She played with Willie Nelson in Austin, wrapping her silver flute around his Easter music celebration. She wraps her music, vocals, and flutes around prayers, inspirational talks, and transformational workshop venues with grace, sweetness, and elegance of that touch to the heart of all who hear her music. There is a 'space' in her music, yet one's mind remains alert and calm. Her music is said to bring an 'air of serenity to our home', by others who enjoy her music. Vocals are akin to Streisand and classic beauty through her voice. Jeannie is a successful actor, author, speaker, producer, TV Internet Interview Show producer/host, transformational facilitator and lives full time on the road in a mobile lifestyle. Her focus is healing mind, body, spirit and works to further education and humanitarian evolution through awareness and uplifting others for positive change. More details and background can be found on her Lotusheartand Showbizladysites.
