Enter the world of Kyra Simone Kyra Simone was born in the UK having a Caribbean background of St Lucian and Grenadian parentage. A wonderful mixture of the islands, musical ties and cultural influences has shaped how Kyra Simone thinks, feels, sounds and looks. Coming from a musical family where her father played keys and sang and her mother sung lead in a reggae steel band. Her musical tastes growing up were from Soca, calypso, reggae and pop music. Her greatest influencers at the time being her mother and her idols were Prince and Madonna. Kyra got her first recording done at the tender age of six. Wow when I listen to that I cant believe I was singing that high, its crazy, I was so young I barely remember it but I have the tape to prove it. Kyra recalls. After a few years of singing with bands, recording, doing live performances with her mother and joining a girl group, Kyra made a decision to take up singing full-time and thats when she found out she was pregnant. It was the best thing that ever happened to me I was so happy and really excited but I had to leave the girl band as I wanted to concentrate on my baby. Once her son was born Kyra moved back to London and went to Lewisham College, which is where she studied performing arts and music. Whilst there she worked with Peer Publishing, BBC Worldwide and Mercury records, and was recognised by the college for her talent and was featured in the college magazine. Kyra continues to work with various artists, and producers, such as Supafly who had a hit Lets get down (Island Records) and Maria Lawson (Sony BMG Artist), Supa Soul Brutha Del, Jason Jermaine, Andrae

Bentley and other distinguished UK artists. Kyra also continues to get support from UK soul, BBC Three DJ-Lee Drummond, UKMusic.com, Black Heroes In the hall of fame Flip Fraser, Struggs A Salute to the Wailers, Madison Media, Rewind Magazine and others. In the midst off all the happenings Kyra was spotted by TBRL Music Label manager, Ainslee Connage, who saw a gifting in her that he felt, would blossom into a great singer/songwriter and thats when Kyra was offered her record deal with TBRL Music and started writing her own songs for TBRL Publishing. Kyra after much deliberation decided that working with TBRL Music was not working out and decided to take that step out into the unknown with a few key characters that will help to shape her future and take her to the next level of her musical journey. The Scent... Kyra takes you through a fragranced journey of life experiences that can bring you joy, bring you pain and capture moments that should never be taken for granted.. Kyra says - 'The alluring sweet scent that the spiritual can pick up on is something that all people should be aware of. It can keep you from trouble and lead you to good times... Listen carefully to the words for insight...Enjoy!' Currently working on her Book and album One, which incorporates the intellectual, sexy, inspirational and authentic personality of the Kyra Simone, in the form of poetry, story telling and song will be a classic introduction to the many faces of Kyra Simone. People who are interested in Erykah Badu Jill Scott Corinne Bailey Rae should consider this download.
