Welcome to the ancient realms of castles and kingdoms; of fairies and fantasy! Intricately entwined in those times, the harp was a fixture in royal courts and among wandering minstrels in Celtic lands.

Alternately haunting and lilting, this collection includes some of the artists' favorite Celtic tunes. Inspired by a vacation in Ireland with its lush green countryside, deep blue waters, and the multicolored floral abundance, these melodies reflect a musical tribute to a rich heritage of a culture that gave rise to the Celtic harp. This is RoJean's sixth recording; the fourth with her vibrant flute woven throughout selected tracks. "You've really outdone yourself on this CD," write a fan. "The music is just wonderful, and the liner notes photos really put me back in Ireland!"
