CD RELEASE! TRINITY ST. PAUL'S CENTRE, FRIDAY, MAY 29, 8:00PM presented by SMALL WORLD MUSIC Toronto, ON - On Friday, May 29 at Trinity St. Paul's Centre, Canadian string super-group Sultans of String release their stunning new CD, "Yalla Yalla". This sophomore album weaves a truly global sonic tapestry, influenced by Spanish Flamenco, Arabic folk, Cuban rhythms, jazz, classical and French Manouche Gypsy-jazz music! From the driving and spirited title track (Arabic for Come on! Lets go!), to the soaring musical tributes of Sable Island, Auyuittuq Sunrise, Gardens of Lebanon, to the sweet yearning of Le Bisou (The Kiss), Yalla Yalla is a riveting musical adventure, seamlessly traversing diverse themes of heart, place and tradition. Fiery violin dances with kinetic guitar while a funk bass lays down unstoppable grooves. A full Cuban trumpet ensemble gets in on the fun, offering up an exhilarating and new texture to the band. Throughout, acoustic strings meet electronic wizardry to create layers and depth of sound. Canada is a real meeting places of styles and musical influences from around the world says bandleader and 2009 JUNO Award nominee Chris McKhool. At the same time, as a band we try to tell uniquely Canadian stories, putting forth our vision of the world as one family. Chris paternal Makhoul grandparents immigrated to Canada from Lebanon in the early 1900s, and his Egyptian-born mother, an accomplished pianist, also has paternal Lebanese ancestry. Growing up, I was taught the Canadian values of tolerance, respect for all peoples and celebration of culture. McKhools passion for exploring the rhythms and melodies has led him to the far corners of the world, incorporating instruments and styles everywhere he went. Canadas ambassadors of musical diversity Sultans of String includes six-string violinist Chris McKhool (who has guest starred with Jesse Cook and Pavlo), duelling guitar wizards Kevin Lalibert (The Chieftains, Jesse Cook) and Eddie Paton (Robert Michaels, Johannes Linstead), bass master Drew Birston (Chantal Kreviazuk, Amanda Martinez) and the jaw dropping talent of Cuban percussionist, Chendy Leon! Special musical guests for the evening include Ernie Tollar on bansuri (from critically acclaimed band Maza Meze), Bassam Bishara (renowned oud player from Palestine), master of stride piano Jordan Klapman, Canadian luminary David Woodhead on bass (Oliver Schroer, Loreena McKennitt) and the resounding Cuban Trumpet Ensemble featuring Alexis Baro, Kervin Baretto, Alexander Brown. 2008 International Songwriting Competition Finalist - Instrumental (awards tba in April/09) 2009 JUNO Award nominee (bandleader Chris McKhool for his "FiddleFire!"
