Real American Roots Rock music with a dash of blues 14 MP3 Songs ROCK: Roots Rock, COUNTRY: Country Blues Details: Bill originally hails from Austin, Texas. He grew up playing drums in rock and roll bands during the psychedelic era. The 13th Floor Elevators, Fever Tree and Rusty Wier were all playing music in the Austin area while Bill was honing his craft. During the 1980's Bill played in three local bands, The Rockhounds, Chaparral and Primitive Moderns. Chaparral is still a driving force in the Austin music scene and continue to play in the Austin area. The Rockhounds have since broken up but the band did release one 45 single entitled "Girlfriend Song" that did receive airplay on the rock radio station KLBJ FM. Bill also owned and operated a small music store, The String Shop, during the mid 70's and the early 1980's. One of his customers was Stevie Ray Vaughan who bought a Vibroverb amp from him and used it on his first three albums. Some of his other customers included Eric Johnson, Omar and the Howlers and Jimmy Vaughan. Bill started recording "The Love Doctor" in 2003. Bill finished recording the CD and all artwork was done by Jonathan Sack, Lee Reinhardt and Discmakers. The new Bill James CD "The Love Doctor" is as hot as an August night in Texas. From the first song "Where would the Rock be Without the Roll," to "You Never Get Too Old to Rock and Roll," the songs are cooking. The CD contains the slow ballad "I Want to see You Tonight" that is reminiscent of Roy Orbison. The song "I've Got the Blues for You" is soulful and features some fine guitar playing from David Sensat. The Love Doctor CD, is available through Bill's website, BillJames-Diamond Communications.com Other websites to check out are sonicbids.com/BillJames and musicgorilla.com/BillJames
