Details: Fuschia was formed in May 2008 by Frankie Milner (songwriter/ pianist) when she met vocalist Lauren "songbird" Bannon at her live music acoustic night, SIRIUS. Frankie was so blown away by Lauren's vocal talent that she asked if she would like to sing her songs, something which hadn't been done before as Frankie had performed as a solo artist for many years, achieving credit for her song writing skills. The duo took off quickly gaining prestigious gigs both around south Uk and London. Frankie already had an album planned so the two girls decided to put a band around them with Frankie's drummer from university, Gemma Stilwell, and bassist from college, Jason Shearing. The band gelled and were in the studio recording within a month. "Picture Book" was recorded "live" through an analogue desk with only the over dubs being recorded seperetely. Working with sound engineer Dave Thomas and inviting guest musicians Sandy Bartai (cellist, BSO) and James Lane (electric guitarist, Kings college), the album has a warm quality of realness so lacking in modern recordings. Fuschia will be touring the UK in autumn and venturing over to the States in spring...keep your eyes on their myspace for dates.
