Concert recordings featuring crazy ambient experimental guitar feedback soundscapes that wash over you like watercolors. 11 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Ambient, ELECTRONIC: Experimental Details: Syndicated columnist and TV host Joe Bob Briggs credits Denver filmmaker/artist/musician Ronnie Cramer with making "some of the finest underground films of this century." Cramer's screen work has also been termed "original and inventive" by Option magazine and "supremely entertaining" by Westword, a Colorado periodical that has awarded Cramer three "Best of Denver" prizes and praised him for his "amazing facility with mass media." Ronnie directed the crime feature Back Street Jane, a film noir likened to John Huston's Asphalt Jungle by Psychotronic video magazine, and the black comedy Even Hitler Had a Girlfriend, which Briggs dubbed "the best drive-in movie of the year." Ronnie's film PILLOW GIRL was an official selection at over 70 film festivals and has been named Best Experimental Film and Best Animated Film nine times. Also an accomplished musician, Cramer's recorded material has received airplay on over 100 radio stations and he has performed live concerts at such venues as San Francisco's Mabuhay Gardens and New York's CBGB. A longtime composer and lyricist, Cramer has had two Number One songs on MP3.com. A painter for over thirty years, Ronnie's watercolor and acrylic works have been exhibited throughout the U.S.
