This soul sublime and frayed original music is where classic quality meets edgy rock and soul style with piercing, powerful vocals and live band production. 10 MP3 Songs POP: with Live-band Production, ROCK: Folk Rock Details: Where classic quality meets edgy rock and soul style with undeniable stage presence, Delisco is the future of music and entertainment. "An iconoclastic performer with orgiastic energy," Delisco emanates "old school charisma that is noticeably missing in contemporary performances and in the market driven performers who sacrifice musical integrity for the quick record deal," raves Erica Hector Vital. His handling of a song is so true to itself and to the purpose of music, to uplift and inspire, that a musical and entertainment revolution is only a matter of time. A veteran of stage, television, and Broadway, Delisco's powerful five-octave soul/rock countertenor vocal range has gained buzz among audiences and critics alike. Deliscos most recent run of performances in Las Vegas is exemplary of his appeal to the mainstream audience, launched by his headlining debut at the Las Vegas Hilton, which opened to rave reviews, in September 2005. He made his television debut on the E! Network's reality series "The Entertainer," in the spring of 2005. Delisco won the title of The Entertainer after competing with nine other contestants from a pool of over 25,000. With his solo career on the rise, Delisco just returned from Berlin, Germany, where he played to sold out audiences, a testament to both the mystery intrigue of Delisco, virtually an unknown to European audiences before he erupted onto the scene. His latest performances have included cruise ships around the globe, the Sahara Hotel and Casino, Chameleon Studios, and many others. Formerly a principal in the Broadway hit Aida; Delisco has been described by Sir Elton John as "great" and moved the late Peter Jennings to exclaim "Man You Rock!" Delisco also starred on Broadway in "Smokey Joe's Cafe" playing the role of James. He was featured in the Broadway hit musical "Ragtime" in 1998. Delisco appeared numerous times on New York's 92.7FM live radio show "Munchamba Live," performing his original music and poetry. Delisco creates a connection between artist and audience member while ushering in his unique new sound through his original music. Delisco has crafted his own style of music he calls RaGaBaR, which is a synthesis of the elements of 20th century music such as Rhythm and Blues, Gospel, Rock, Reggae, and Ragtime. Deliscos musical influences include Stevie Wonder, Michael Jackson, Lenny Kravitz, Bob Marley, Ray Charles, Sade, Seal, Maxwell, Corey Glover and many others. His sound has wowed audiences throughout the country! Deliscos many achievements, however, are grounded in humble beginnings. Delisco uses his personal story to reach out to the next generation of children. His very first memories are of being traumatically abused and abandoned in the foster care system. Through mental, physical and emotional abuse, Delisco was forced not to speak or cry until he was five years old. Such abuse left him close to death, at which time, Deliscos Grandmother, generous far beyond her means, gave him a home. He discovered the power of his voice when he sang for the first time in the fourth grade talent show, where no eye was without a tear. Delisco realized singing was his outlet to overcome his destitute life. However, it was a live charity concert by Michael Jackson that inspired him to set the goals necessary to achieve his dream of becoming the ultimate entertainer. Now Delisco sets forth his music and life story as an inspiration for others who have been through similar hardships. Deliscos Lil Angel Project was formed to encourage students through artistic presentations, using life experience to educate, relate, and heal, children are given tools for creative development to find an imaginative outlet of their own. Having seen his share of success on the Broadway stage, clubs, radio, and now television, his current goal is to achieve additional success as an original recording artist. Deliscos debut single, the LA Music Award Nominated, 'better side of me', was released in October 2006 , with a full-length album on the way. Through his innovative new music style, electrifying vocal ability, inspirational lyrics, and thrilling performance skills, Delisco is just in time to ring in a new era of artistic ingenuity for the 21st Century. Finally, Delisco believes deep within his heart that if he can live his dreams and make them come true, so can you.
