"he draws from personal experiences and sings his heart out"... "his songs tell a story we can all relate to"

10 MP3 Songs POP: Today's Top 40, ROCK: Acoustic Details: "Turning Me Loose" has already started it's own buzz in the Boston area in the past few months. Having just recorded the album in August with producer Chris Keup (Jason Mraz, Jonathan Rice, Josh Kelley) and engineer Stewart Myers (Lifehouse, Jason Mraz) Erik plans to start to. Erik is joined by studio session players... on keys Tim Bradshaw (of David Gray), drums Brian Jones (Lifehouse, Mraz) and guitarist Marc Goldenberg (Jackson Brown, Natalie Imbruglia). This 25 year-old singer/songwriter from Boston started playing guitar and singing as a way to express himself in college. Having graduated from Amherst College in 2003, Erik traveled to Germany as he signed a contract to play professional hockey. Along with his hockey bag and sticks was his guitar. After a year overseas he continued with his music at the world-renowned Berklee College of Music where he studied songwriting. Many have characterized Erik's style as acoustic pop with intriguing lyrics..."he draws from personal experiences and sings his heart out"... "his songs tell a story we can all relate to"...a MUST SEE in and around Boston's bar and club scene.
