Details: Franco Morone has already established his international reputation as one of the best fingerstyle guitarist and as a musician who understands how to skillfully combine folk, jazz and blues with his own Mediterranean heritage. This humorous Italian musician is now presenting a collection focused on Celtic instrumental music. The Road To Lisdoonvarna is based on Morone's journey to the beautiful place near the western coast of Ireland. He has now given his experiences, thoughts and feelings a musical life in jigs, traditionals and ballads. The Mediterranean guitar poet offers us travel souvenirs of a very special kind, with refined phrasings, fascinating harmonic sequences and a rich melodic language that simulates with great authenticity the exuberant lightness, the playful joie de vivre and also the melancholy nature of the Irish. Including the desire to hit the road.
