Details: Excellent for relaxed and peaceful moments: as background music when reading a book on the couch or working at the office or at home. Contemplation is the overall mood of this recording. Harmonies and textures, added to solo piano songs contribute greatly to the sense of introspection. Ivn Petracchis first work shows varied influences from progressive rock, pop, and classical music. The overall sound of the record is associated with New Age music due to weighty presence of virtual orchestras plus the fact that the album is fully instrumental. You will listen to melodies played on piano keyboard on most of the songs. Diverse keyboard sounds are also used, providing the album a more appealing listening. When virtual orchestras are heard you will notice background arrangements including flutes, clarinets, violins, cellos, and other classical instruments.
